CATALOGUE

OF THE

Thirty-eighth Annual Exhibition
Open from March 5th,
1910.

At the Galleries of the Art Museum of Toronto.
Public Library Building, College St.
Toronto.

PREFATORY NOTE.

THE holding of the 38th Annual Exhibition of the Ontario Society of Artists in the Galleries of the Art Museum of Toronto, is an event of peculiar interest because of the fact, as stated in the catalogue of the initial exhibition of the Museum recently held, that the Society was instrumental in inaugurating the movement which led to the foundation of the Art Museum.

A society of professional artists, whose especial function it is to safeguard the interests of the Art of the Province; and which, as the guardian of those interests, enjoys the recognition of the Government, must, from time to time, present itself to the public eye; and, in these galleries, the Society is perhaps more conspicuous than formerly, when the exhibitions were held in its own modest premises. These considerations suggest that this may be a fitting occasion on which to state briefly something of its history, objects and principles.

The Society was formed in 1872; was incorporated in 1877; and, re-incorporated in 1898.

The constitution now declares the object of the Society to be "the fostering of original and native art in the Province of Ontario."

The Society has continually raised the standard of admission in respect of its membership, and of pictures for exhibition; and, as far as is consistent with this standard, maintains the "Open Door."

The members and exhibitors of both sexes enjoy equal rights, and the work of both members and non-members, when submitted for exhibition, undergoes the same impartial scrutiny of the hanging committee.

The Society recognizes as an elementary principal the reasonable encouragement of the young artist. With this object in view the Ontario School of Art was founded under its auspices shortly after the formation of the Society itself.

The sphere of the Society being properly confined to the Province, its work has been carried on in entire harmony with that of the Royal Canadian Academy, which the Society was largely instrumental in forming in 1880, under the patronage of the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise.

The future of the Society, as a matter of course, is dependent on the young artists, and the "coming" artists, but those who are now guiding its way are making every effort, with the material in hand, to leave a record showing sincerity of purpose and high aims in the up-building of Canadian Art.
